Stakeholders in the Environmental Policy Process

Of the stakeholders we consider this week (NGOs, U.S. Congress, business community, President, public, etc) choose one and discuss their level of success in forwarding an environmental agenda.

How would you measure success for your chosen individual or group?

Give examples of issues on which progress has been made and in contrast those on which no progress has been made. Explain this in light the role of this stakeholder.

You will need to 1) choose a particular Congress, business sector, NGO, President, etc. and 2) be explicit about the nature of their agenda to answer this question with enough substance.
