

Environmental Health Undergraduate Program

Photo © Field Research and Consultation Group Photo Archives

ENV H 311: Introduction to Environmental Health

Syllabus

Schedule

Instructors

Instructions for getting to E-179 \(PDF\)

Groups & Projects

Midterm Study Guide

Final Study Guide

Page contents:

Meeting Times and Locations

Announcements

DEOHS Seminar

In the News ...

Home Page for Autumn Quarter 2012

*Last Updated
26 August 2012*

This is a survey course examining how environmental factors and conditions affect human health and well-being.

Meeting Times and Locations:

8:30 - 9:20 a.m.
Monday, Wednesday & Friday
Room T-435 HSB

Instructors / Office Hours:

Charles D. \(Chuck\) Treser, Senior Lecturer

Office: F-561A Health Sciences Center

Office Hours: 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 - 3:30 p.m., except times when I have a meeting scheduled. (Please check calendar posted outside the door to my office suite to see if I will be available.) Other times by appointment.

Jessica Youngblood, Graduate Teaching Assistant

Office: E-179F Health Sciences Center

Office Hours: 9:30 - 11:00 Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; other times by appointment.

Christopher Schaupp, Graduate Teaching Assistant

Office: E-179F Health Sciences Center

Office Hours: TBD. Other times by appointment.

The actual full syllabus for this course is to be found on-line at:
<http://courses.washington.edu/envh311/>

It is your responsibility to read and follow the syllabus in its entirety -- the Homepage, Course Description, Course Schedule and other links. The TAs and I are available to answers your questions, however, you should not waste your time nor ours by asking questions, the answers to which are already contained in the syllabus on the course web-site.

In addition to containing information on the topics and speakers for each lesson, the on-line schedule contains a link to the PowerPoint slides used for that lesson -- printed as a PDF document so that you can take notes on the page. To access these materials you will need to log on to the password protected portion of the course website.

Login Name: EH311

Password: EH$student

We will try to post the slides the evening before the lecture, however, since a number of the lectures will be by guest speakers we cannot guarantee that we will have their slides in time to post them before their lectures.