

ESRM430 Spring 2009 - Homework Exercise 1

The "Sausage Exercise" can be helpful in developing the ability to see stereo. In this exercise you focus your eyes on a distant object and then slowly bring your forefingers into the line of vision. The farther apart your fingers and the larger the sausage, the more nearly parallel your lines of sight.

